

Exists any drivers for 'Fujitsu Semiconductor et-2033'?I have downloaded drivers from Fujitsu website (VX850SPB, VX860SPB, VX850SPB, VX860SPB) from "Drivers" tab, but there are NO et-2033! Hey guys, I am using an HP Spectra (ET-2033) Touchscreen Driver for Windows XP and it seems that XP doesn't support the screen, the control panel doesn't even detect the touchscreen and I can't do anything with it. So, I bought a new screen for that machine. I have a Bevel $50 touchscreen that is supposedly based on the same chipset as the ET-2033, however, I am unable to get the touchscreen to work on my computer. When I plug it in, Windows doesn't recognize it. Click to expand... From this list, it looks like the Bevels are hardwired and the touchscreen is sold separately. The Bevel is a Bevel G105m. I have the ET-2033. I can not get the drivers to work. I downloaded them from the Fujitsu site and it told me that I already have the latest driver. Any ideas? Thanks Sigh. I haven't had any success with my hardware so I don't know what to do. The ones that worked on other machines don't seem to work on my machine. I tried to plug in the video card, an external monitor, and monitor/vga cable. None
