After downloading the trial version of an app, you must install the app before you can use it. If you are on macOS or Windows 10, follow the steps below. Step 1 Launch iTunes and go to your Devices tab. Step 2 Find the hard drive you want to check. You can choose the last hard drive used or any hard drive listed. Step 3 You will see a list of hard drives that have the file "harvest." Select the hard drive you want to check and click the Scan button in the lower right corner. Step 4 Wait for the scan to finish. The progress bar will reflect the amount of time remaining. Once the scan is finished, click "Paste Recovery". iTunes will check the files for the hard drive. You will be prompted to install any updates. Step 5 Install any updates if necessary and click OK. Step 6 Once the check completes, select "Open File" and open the.hardsplit file on your computer. Step 7 Follow the steps in this guide to recover deleted files from your Mac. Related PostsQ: React Hooks: My code returns TypeError: _this2.setState is not a function Why does my code return TypeError: _this2.setState is not a function? I'm using a React-hook and it works for one of my classes but not another. The only difference between the two classes is one is a stateless functional component and the other is a class. const SurveyInstance = (props) => { const [submit, setSubmit] = useState(false); return ({props.question_text && ({props.question_text} props
