Files 2 Folder is a very simple application that enables you to automatically create directories for selected files or folders to move them in, by integrating a shell extension in Windows Explorer. There is no complicated setup procedure involved here, as all you have to do is allow the app to register the right-click menu entry. This can be done from any location on the hard drive, as well as from a removable device, such as a USB flash disk. Note that the device must not be write-protected, since Files 2 Folder creates several files in the root directory, including an executable item for removing its entry from the Explorer context menu. Once registered, you can open the right-click menu of any selected file or folder. Clicking it will create a new directory with the same name in the same location, and automatically move the item in question there. In case of selecting multiple files at once, Files 2 Folder prompts a dialog to establish the course of action. So, you can either define a subfolder name, move each file to individual subfolders based on names, or move each file to subdirectories based on file extensions. This rule does not apply to directories, though. The program barely uses CPU and RAM, so it does not burden overall performance. We have not come across any issues in our tests, since the app did not cause the OS to hang, crash or pop up error messages. By using the separate executable file, Files 2 Folder can be easily disabled. All in all, this program comes in handy to all users who want to quickly organize files and folders on their computer. Thanks to its overall simplicity, it can be handled even by users with no prior experience in software applications. Some of them are still in critical condition and doctors expect them to remain hospitalized for a long time. The unrest continued on Saturday with demonstrations in protest of the state government and its handling of the situation in the capital. Residents carried various items, among them gas canisters, to distribute to the demonstrators. It was the second night of riots following the government's order to shut down the state legislature. The situation in the streets was tense and at times the crowd attacked the Lebanese Forces militia, which the government is counting on to protect it from demonstrators. In a speech broadcast on TV channels, Prime Minister Fouad Siniora and other political leaders said they did not intend to exploit the current situation for political gains and blamed the unrest on 'extremist elements.' Another political party, the Free Patriotic Movement, led by Hariri, called for a meeting at the Great Auditorium on Sunday to present a plan to deal with the crisis. Meanwhile, thousands of demonstrators remained in the streets for a second night, setting up barricades.
