Superior User Rating:Ghana I want to inform you that there will be a lot of communication around M-Start Ghana that is coming up in 4 to 5 months. This is not finalised yet and to get more details will be sent to you. But for now, allow me to showcase some of the collaboration opportunities that we are participating in. The first collaboration event will be a series of youth for development (Y4D) workshops in the Brong Ahafo Region led by a UNDP project and APGACO project. These workshops will be held for those that are interested and have interest in the Y4D Programmes that UNDP has been implementing in Ghana. The workshops are crucial because it will introduce the Programmes to a wider audience and it will introduce the participants to these programs. Next we will provide a series of workshops for the M-Start Ghana program on “How to put together a Project” that will be conducted by Agbaradz (senior staff of the Ministry of Agriculture in Ghana) and Samuel Dzisay and Professor Charles Kweku Ampofo from the department of Geography at the University of Ghana. It will be beneficial for the community to understand the development aspects of M-Start Ghana so that they can independently manage M-Start Ghana. It will help us contribute to the current fund raising of the M-Start Ghana programme which is still ongoing. M-Start Ghana has financial partners and we want to involve them in the collaboration events. This will be a simple way for them to collaborate with us so that we can reduce unnecessary administrative costs and boost communication with the community. We are also participating in several other projects, but these will be displayed in further emails.
