we mean in the example that is not accepted by sa sa driver su/postgres and this type of "error" is working correctly with other rules so why it is not working with sa rules? A: I think if I'm correct, you need to use %v instead of %V in the kurzform-dateklassen-enum, %v translates to the string. At least this one is in the docs which states %V Vorgabewert the value. The result is a numerical format string. %V is documented for use with the STRING TO DATE function. So I'm not sure if %V is allowed in this context, but you may have to use %v in the enum. I'm honestly not sure about it. EDIT: I saw that you answered your own question; even though I don't agree with it, I'm happy you got it figured out:) Enel Green Power has reached an agreement with the European Commission on a new financing scheme that will allow the power company to issue green bonds in order to invest in energy production. The deal will put a stop to calls for the Commission to regulate banks' green investment operations, said EU Energy Commissioner Oettinger on Tuesday. "This agreement has delivered the first milestone of a comprehensive framework for green investment in Europe," said European Commission spokeswoman Helene Diegelmann. The agreement is a first step in a review of the European banking sector launched in April 2013, as part of the EU's drive to reduce carbon emissions and move towards a greener economy. The expected investment amount of €1.2 billion has been set by the Commission. This proposal now awaits the decision of the Council of the EU. Enel Green Power, a subsidiary of the Italian energy group Enel, will be the only investor eligible to issue green bonds. The new issuance will not be subject to the strict controls applied to bank capital raising activities. The agreement "calls for the Commission to end its interventionist tendency", Diegelmann said. Green bonds are bonds or loans that are managed by financial institutions, but mostly by governments or central banks, in order f30f4ceada
