Ethics Beyond High School, EBS, is committed to improving students' ethics by introducing students to different ethical frameworks and by examining current ethical problems. During the course, students are exposed to ethical reasoning and to ethical reflection, discussion and deliberation. Students are given assignments where they are required to apply their theoretical knowledge to real-life situations. In addition, in order to strengthen the students' critical thinking and analytic skills, assignments are based on moral dilemmas which require participants to justify their moral choices in a certain situation, by making different ethical decisions. Ethics Beyond High School is a stand-alone course, and will be offered twice during the semester (fall and spring term). Requirements: This course can be taken in any of the four departments. If you need to know where this course is taught, please see the required courses list. If you need to know the student's level, please see the grading scale. Admission Requirements: Please note that this course is not open to High School students. Grading & Examination Policy: Students will receive a pass/fail grade for the course. The primary unit of assessment will be an examination, which will include a set of questions, each with a single correct answer. Questions will be taken from a set of examination questions and from multiple choice questions. Examination questions are not offered in the summer term. There will be no grade averaging. If you receive a 'fail' grade on one test, then you will be automatically failing this course. Assignments: Complete assignments must be handed in by the due date. All assignments must be submitted to a teacher for grading. Students may ask for an extension of their assignment due date. There is no extension for final assignments. Course Availability: Students should select this course if they have taken another course that is listed as a prerequisite. Please note, that Ethics Beyond High School can not be taken as a stand-alone course. Course Description: This course is an introduction to ethical issues that are of interest to students. Some of the topics we will discuss include the use of power and moral authority; gender, sexuality and other aspects of sexuality; race and ethnicity; and health issues. Students will be asked to identify and discuss some of the ethical issues that they find challenging or interesting, and will be encouraged to consider the implications of their opinions. In addition, we will discuss professional and personal responsibilities, including interactions with colleagues, supervisors, clients and customers. Students are encouraged to 1d6a3396d6

It sounds amazing and it is! I was told it was after I posted the article "Service dogs for the deaf" on Facebook. I wasn't sure why, but I did get a lot of responses and when I checked the news story, the comments filled in as to why this story was so amazing to so many. Even though they were given the name "Service Dogs for the Deaf," this particular family has always called them service dogs. The story is about a deaf family and their two service dogs, Oscar and Cash. Oscar was born deaf and Cash is a dog born and bred to work with and assist a deaf person. As a child, John, who is deaf, had his first dog. He found Oscar at a local shelter. He explained, "My mom and I found a dog, Oscar, when he was nine months old, at a pet store. He was a blind dog and he had no idea what was going on." They took Oscar home. John had questions as to how his mom was going to train him. At the time, she had a service dog herself

This is a 3d macro-focus lens for Sony G lenses and Olympus OM lenses. With the same technology used in Nikon and Canon lenses, the lens minimizes depth of field (DoF) while giving the subject a sharper, more detailed photograph. The Super ED lens is unique in that it features a circular aperture design. The lens was designed and developed by the U.S. military under the guidance of Dr. David Bellamy, and has been used on both unmanned aerial vehicles (UAV) and HUMINT (Human Intelligence) aircraft. The lens is unique in that it has a circular aperture design. This circular design offers minimal depth of field in one plane, while simultaneously maximizing depth of field in all other planes. The front element is made of a special optical glass named ED (Extraordinary Dispersion) glass that allows the lens to produce high quality images under all lighting conditions. The lens focuses at 0.1m, yet the minimum focus distance is 5m. The lens also has a manual focus facility.
