I'm in the process of writing a series of scripts that require a "group" to be defined before the script can be run. I have all this working except that I am having trouble limiting the number of people that can be in the group. At the moment, I have the following: $group = New-Group -Identity MyGroup -Members @("user1","user2","user3") I would like to limit the number of people that can be in the group. How can I do this? A: If you want to add users to a group, you should use the Add-Member cmdlet: $group = New-Group -Name MyGroup $group.AddMember('Bob') $group.AddMember('Dave') $group.AddMember('Oliver') BTW, the Add-Member cmdlet is documented here: Add-Member (Add-Member) Man's Hand Man's Hand is a 2001 documentary film by Mark Massaro. Narrated by Bruce Greenwood, the documentary explores the hand prosthetics that, at the time of filming, were the dominant technology in the industry. It discusses prosthetic hands, their history, design and function, with particular emphasis on "implants". Man's Hand had its world premiere at the 2001 South by Southwest Film Festival and went on to have various short theatrical runs, as well as a DVD release. The documentary uses the story of James P. Blanchfield, a 9-year-old boy who lost his arm to cancer. Synopsis At 570a42141b
