Thank You.On Tuesday, Cook County Judge Steven McWhorter issued an order that forces the Chicago 8, including who got what plea deal and how many sentences were meted out. The judge also ordered the files related to the 1970s protests known as the Days of Rage, otherwise known as the Battle of Illinois State Fairgrounds. On Thursday, Cook County prosecutors went after the judge's order, arguing in a federal court filing that he doesn't have the legal authority to even be examining the materials. "The court does not have authority to seize and detain Chicago Police Department (CPD) records relating to the Chicago 7 and Chicago 8, or to order that such records be released in the face of constitutional and statutory claims challenging the admissibility of such records in a criminal trial," the prosecutors wrote in a motion to revoke the order. In a similar bid to shut down this line of inquiry, the attorney general's office recently filed a court filing arguing that McWhorter's order to release "to the public in a manner that provides a meaningful opportunity for public comment" is not actually allowed under the state law. The judge made the order a group of lawyers representing protesters called the Days of Rage legal team filed a Freedom of Information Act requests last summer to see who got what type of plea deal and what sentences were meted out. Cook County prosecutors and the attorney general argue in Thursday's filing that the judge's order impermissibly limits their ability to the state to conduct future criminal investigations." Unlike the order to release the Chicago 7 and 8 files, the order to release the Days of Rage files "is not limited in time or to persons whom the state might seek to criminal year to release the Chicago 7 and 8 files, the order to release the Chicago 7 and 8 files, the order to release the Chicago 7 and 8

Examples of materials for fabrication of the stem of the bicycle are fiberglass, plastic, or wood. This could be done either from a relatively rigid solid plate, which is then shaped into the pre-. or woven fabric or a more flexible plate, which is then shaped. Another common material used is tin-. The rigid plate process is used mostly for the construction of bikes as the stem is see. These parts generally form the bulk of the construction and are used as supports for everything else. The cylinder of a bicycle is. most often made by using metal wire, wrapped around the stem and then heated in a furnace to form a tube. The tube is then removed from the furnace and shaped into the desired cylinder. Wire usually is used because it has a very smooth exter-, but other materials may be used. Stem Socket and other parts that fit into the stem are made of metal, plastic, or wood. This usually dictated by the method used to produce the stem. If the stem is molded, a pin attachment is needed because the part would be glued to the stem. If the stem is welded, a pin attachment is needed because the part would be glued to the stem. If the stem is welded, a pin attachment is needed because the part would be glued to the stem. If the stem is welded, a pin attachment is needed because the part would be glued to the stem is welded, a pin attachment is needed as it is not possible to fit a pin
