Here are some details: High intensity motion capture: FIFA 20 was one of the first games to use highly detailed, high intensity motion capture data to power gameplay. With FIFA 22, we're going one step further to deliver more authentic player animations and realistic player movement on the pitch. The new data from EA SPORTS is gleaned from real-life players playing a full-length, intense match. Players run, jump, sprint, cut in and around the pitch, and make full-body movements to score a goal, defend or fight for the ball. The new data is also used to recreate an even more accurate match environment, including the full range of movements around the pitch. Our emphasis on living data means that you'll experience a more complete and authentic football match experience when you play FIFA 22 than ever before. Accurate player movements: In a football match, players move in different ways, in different situations, and with different forms. With player movements, FIFA 22 improves on the accuracy of FIFA 20 and adds new movement types, such as juggling. Player movements can be triggered through the direction of the pass, the pitch location, or the player's body position. The focus on player movements means that you'll experience an even more authentic match environment. Enhanced ball physics: The ball is as big in FIFA as it is in real life: a sphere that changes its shape as it moves through the air. The new physics system features enhanced ball movement, improved AI anticipation, and new celebrations. Real Player Impact: The new version of FIFA's player collisions deliver more realistic sounds and reactions, and can be triggered by actions such as a player diving into an opponent, or by colliding with a ball. Gameplay tuning: Every aspect of how we create the game has been improved. We've tweaked key gameplay aspects to deliver a deeper and more intuitive experience, such as the tight-balance, passing and shooting mechanics. We've also tuned AI and commentary to further improve the overall experience. FIFA 20 features improvements to offensive, defensive and goalkeeping play. FIFA 22 is available on PlayStation 4, Xbox One and PC. We're sure you'll agree that it's the best version of the game yet. Your FIFA journey continues... For generations of fans, FIFA stood for football, passion, friendship and fun. FIFA is football at its purest. FIFA is more than a football game. FIFA is the world of football. It's where legends were created, where magic and drama unfold. It's football as the ultimate expression of human creativity. And it's filled with millions of personal stories. FIFA is a celebration of the sport, the players and the game itself. FIFA is football, and always will be. How do you decide who should be in the game? FIFA has been the top selling game on PlayStation and Xbox for the last five years. We don't just design for the game, but the sport itself. And in FIFA we want to stay true to the roots of the game. Every fan is unique. Each has their own experience of football. We want to capture this in FIFA as accurately as possible. The following are the main areas that we look at. The fans who buy the game play it. We've done a lot of research into how people play the game. A lot of them download the game and don't buy it, but we think that fans who purchase and use FIFA will be passionate and loyal to the game for a long time. We've also looked at how they communicate with other fans, create their own stories and how they choose their clubs. We listen to feedback and debates on Xbox and PlayStation forums to ensure that we're delivering the game people want. We also measure our success based on fan feedback. Are there any new features? We've put a lot of time into the new My Player career mode. In My Player you can continue to learn about the game as you play. If you're a newer player, you can learn about tactics. If you're a more experienced player, you'll learn about key positions. In My Player there are three ways you can improve your player. You can build and improve your own squad. You can learn from other players and build tactics. You can also train in the gym to become stronger, faster and more agile. You can also practice drills with other players to become a better, more tactical team. We've also revamped the match editor. This allows you to create your own tournaments and challenge. You can also upload these to the community. This means that any football fan can now create their own tournaments. We
