With its stunning good looks, it is a wonder the world would ever be able to live without eyelashes. They are a highly sought after commodity for both men and women and if you have been recently looking for a convenient way of increasing your eyelash volume and length, then you should definitely try using a very simple and very natural method. Moreover, this method only requires a basic makeup kit and it doesn't have to be much expensive. You can actually make your own false eyelashes. Your eyelashes will become longer and fuller than ever before and you can make them up to be whatever shape you prefer. Just place some on your finger, apply mascara and place the remaining ones on your eyelids and you will be transformed into an instant movie star. own false eyelashes, you need to purchase your own eyelashes and glue. Then you just need to add some eyebrow mascara and a few drops of water. Start applying the glue on your eyelashes starting at the tip and work your way down to the roots. Make sure to apply enough glue so that you are fully covered by it. Next you need to take your false eyelashes and carefully place them on your eyelids, one at a time. Then apply some eyebrow mascara on them and place them on your eyelids again. Just repeat these steps until you are done. Next you need to apply some water onto your eyelids and massage them gently. After this step is done, you can place a piece of cotton on the false eyelashes and you are done. You can make any shape of your choice for these eyelashes. You can even leave them unglued or do make them more full and thick by applying more glue on them. These eyelashes are a great addition to your daily makeup and you will be surprised how much they transform your look. You can even use them as a basic makeup look for
