Motion capture suits have been used in other sports such as baseball, tennis and hockey, and combine both real-world and 3D modelling. Players on the pitch are filmed on the ground using this technology, and their body movements are mapped and quantified into richly-detailed character animations. The game also features improved player ratings that are more specific to each position, with several new player ratings systems being introduced, including the Player Impact Rating (PIR), which focuses on the impact a player's performance can have on the game outcome. A brand-new injury system has also been introduced, which features over 160 realistic injury types that affect the quality of a player's movement, including concussions and injuries sustained from blocked shots. Injury types can occur through hard tackles, bad passes or poor decisions. Players can also experience injuries with practice and fatigue through matches played. In addition, FanMatch has also been redesigned to be more dynamic, competitive and social. Now, users can interact with their friends, including tagging players on their social media and competitions, viewing their statistics, chatting on messages, competing in games and watching replays. Complete player profiles are also available, including store information, posts, photos, videos and achievements. FanMatch can be accessed through the in-game menu, or through the new "Club" section of the right-hand side navigation bar. A brand-new leaderboard has also been introduced, where users can see their position in rankings, but also view league tables and attend international or worldwide competitions on their results page. This allows users to stand out from the crowd, as it is now possible to open and personalise their own leaderboard. Additional improvements have also been made to the way matches are created, with users no longer only being able to create private matches, but also create open tournaments and competitions where every user, regardless of rank, can be invited to participate. Finally, a brand-new "My Career" mode has been introduced, which allows users to play through their own career with their own set of goals and ambitions. Set to reflect the latest story in football, with the introduction of a new look and feel, the new edition will be available to download on Xbox One, PC and PlayStation 4 in the second half of June. Fans can also expect to

===== In this section we discuss the relation between the dual forms of the automorphisms of the toric stack \mathcal{X} and $K(X, \Sigma)$.
Review: Let $\Psi: \mathcal{X} \rightarrow \mathcal{X}$ be a toric automorphism of the toric stack. The dual automorphism $\Psi^\vee: \mathcal{Y} \rightarrow \mathcal{Y}$ is given by the data of a T -linearization on the line bundle \mathcal{L}_λ on \mathcal{X} , with weight λ dual to Ψ , together with a perfect pairing $\langle -, - \rangle_\lambda: \text{Pic}(\mathcal{X}) \times \text{Pic}(\mathcal{X}) \rightarrow \mathbb{C}^*$

FIFA is the world's biggest sport videogame franchise, best-selling for nearly 40 years on multiple platforms around the world. Powered by Football™ You've hit those crucial "C" and "D" buttons, got the right player, dribbled past the last defender, controlled that ball perfectly and now you're about to shoot - good timing. It would be great if this was all just a video game, but it isn't. FIFA 22 delivers an authentic, immersive football experience through gameplay innovations that make the most of the Move™ technology, aiming to make your passes and runs seem more realistic than ever before. Throw-ins and Free-Kicks with Precision To ensure that every throw-in and free-kick is the perfect time, FIFA 22 captures the subtleties of real world movement. With its brand new Expected Move™ technology, FIFA 22 moves the timing of the throw-ins and free-kicks to ensure maximum realism and precision. Proving accurate and more forgiving than ever before, even the most demanding player is rewarded with precision and accuracy. New Street Ball System Not only will you be able to control passes with exceptional precision, you will also throw the ball with absolute accuracy. Expected Move™ technology is brought to life via the player model, allowing players to shift their weight and limbs in real-time. For those not familiar with this concept, this is the process where we analyse how the ball would move if you, say, jumped in a real-life football match. By analysing movement patterns and taking into account the speed and friction of a player's foot, we generate an Expected Move™ trajectory for the ball, along with a target precision for the player. The result is that players will place their shot or pass with greater precision than ever before. A New AI for The Flash Players from all over the world are motivated to win the game in style - and become the footballing legend of the future. FIFA 22 introduces a new AI player model that adapts intelligently to all opponents in real-time. A new weather system means that the weather may also play a vital role when it comes to team strategy. In addition, the complete set of AI conditions is now more dynamic and in real-time, meaning that more goal-hungry players will push harder, play their natural
