A total of 19 new player types have been introduced including goalkeepers and defenders with increased tackling power, shots blocked and shots deflected. There are also six new ways to play out of possession with players being able to sprint more effectively, including using “Curtains” to help break through the defense and reach the goal and use “Calm Match: Counterattacks” to hold possession and counter-attack. A new AI “DNA” system has been introduced to empower teams by allowing them to learn their opponents and create their own individual style of play. Players can also choose how their players use the "Ball Retreats" and “Jump” transitions between various situations. About Electronic Arts Inc. Electronic Arts Inc. FIFA is the world's most popular soccer video game series. FIFA 18 is the best selling soccer game of all time, with over 100 million copies sold to date. It's also been awarded numerous times for its gameplay. Since launching in September 1992, the FIFA franchise has sold over 250 million copies, with more than 75 million on the current generation of consoles. The FIFA franchise generates more revenue than any other sports franchise. 70 Million Conversions In the global eSports landscape, Electronic Arts has been as integral as any publisher. Madden NFL, NCAA Football, NHL and NBA Live have enjoyed millions of game sales and hundreds of millions of dollars in revenue. This success translates to FIFA. More than 70 million people have played on this generation of consoles with over 120 million played in the last three years. It's no wonder this cultural icon is the only sports title generating more revenue than the NFL. Huge Brand Partnership In 1992 Electronic Arts signed a multi-year partnership with FIFA that has grown to 13 platforms, 41 international offices and an active eSports scene. The franchise has become an integral part of EA's gamer audience. Players of FIFA have more in common with their NFL or NHL brethren than most eSports fans. Exclusive Content Top brands and top teams from around the world are unveiled and featured in FIFA. FIFA represents a secret weapon for EA in terms of global branding and awareness. For the first time ever the Champions League and the UEFA Europa League have been included, as well as FIFA's top clubs from around the world. FIFA's coverage of the NFL, NHL and NBA is an extension of EA's brand footprint into the mainstream. Revamped presentation features striking visuals, an improved commentary and a revolutionary revamped presentation. Win For Everyone Throughout the game the focus is on gameplay, not player stats. The game engine is rebuilt from the ground up. The game engine is tested and verified in the many hours of gameplay featured at the FIFA Interactive World Cup. This ensures that the game is playable for everyone from casual fans to world-class players. Four Seasons of Innovation Four years of game innovation have led to the biggest and most diverse Ultimate Team line-up ever seen in any video game. FIFA Ultimate Team (FUT) is a feature packed card-based build mode that rewards both casual and competitive gamers. Each FIFA offers a unique set of challenges. No two games are the same and each offers the unique twist of gameplay bc9d6d6daa

FIFA is the world's leading sports video game series. FIFA World Cups The FIFA World Cups have been staged every two years since 1930, with the exception of 1942, 1946, 1966, 1974 and 1986. The tournament is played every four years between June and December. Over the years, the format of the FIFA World Cup has been dramatically different to those of today. The first FIFA World Cup was held in 1930, six years after FIFA (Football Association of the International Federation of Association Football), the governing body of the sport, was founded. Over the years, it has become an annual event. The sixth World Cup was won by Brazil in the final for a record third time. FIFA World Cup Records As with all FIFA events, records are broken and broken again. The largest FIFA World Cup team was Argentina, with 22 players, in the 1978 finals in Argentina. One of the largest goalscorers, goals per game record holder Alfredo Di Stéfano scored 15 goals in 1966, more than two per game. Brazil's Pelé holds the most tournament appearances, with 14 FIFA World Cup Finals starts. Brazil's Zico holds the most goals, with 148 goals scored, and is tied with Pele for the all-time international tournament appearance record. Sweden's Pele is the only player to be named captain on more occasions, nine times. Spain's Jupp Derwall scored the last-minute goal that qualified Spain for the World Cup on two separate occasions. He was also both goalkeeper and forward, and he holds the record for being the oldest FIFA World Cup goal scorer, at the age of 39 years and 240 days. Final Rankings The FIFA/Coca-Cola World Ranking determines the final placing of a FIFA World Cup. The final rankings are released on the day of the final match. The rankings are based upon the points system for each confederation, with the most points given to the winner of the continental championship, less to the winner of the championship of the weakest confederation, and so on. If the first-placed team wins the final match with a perfect score, then it will receive 15 points. If it loses, it will receive 1 point. If it loses and is the worst ranked team in the list, it will receive 0.5 points. If it loses and is the second best ranked team in the list, it will receive 0.4 points. And
