

Explore The Enchanting Art Of Kundan Jewellery

Are you a kundan jewellery lover? Want to know more about your favorite jewellery? The most important traditional jewellery among the Indians is kundan which is made by placing two stones between the gold foil. The ancient cities of Rajasthan and Gujrat are the root of the beautiful art of Kundan Jewellery. The word Kundan has been derived from the element used to make the jewellery, high quality purified gold and molten gold is used to make kundan jewellery. Jaipur the capital city of Rajasthan is famous for royal kundan bridal jewellery. Kundan jewellery is the most preferred jewellery to be worn by Rajasthani brides.

Why Kundan Is So Essential In India?

 +91 8619160984

 www.cierojewels.com

Why Kundan Is So Essential In India?

India is a culturally rich country, with diverse art, craft and religion. India is famous for many things for its spice, fabric, and also for its beautiful art of different traditional jewellery. Different part of India has different styles, design, and types of traditional jewellery. The most famous among them is kundan jewellery. Kundan is the most ancient form of jewellery which is designed with beautiful gemstones and made with gold. Kundan jewellery is the definition of royalty as it is the ancient form of jewellery believed to be originated from the royal court of Rajasthan. It is famously known as Jaipuri jewellery.

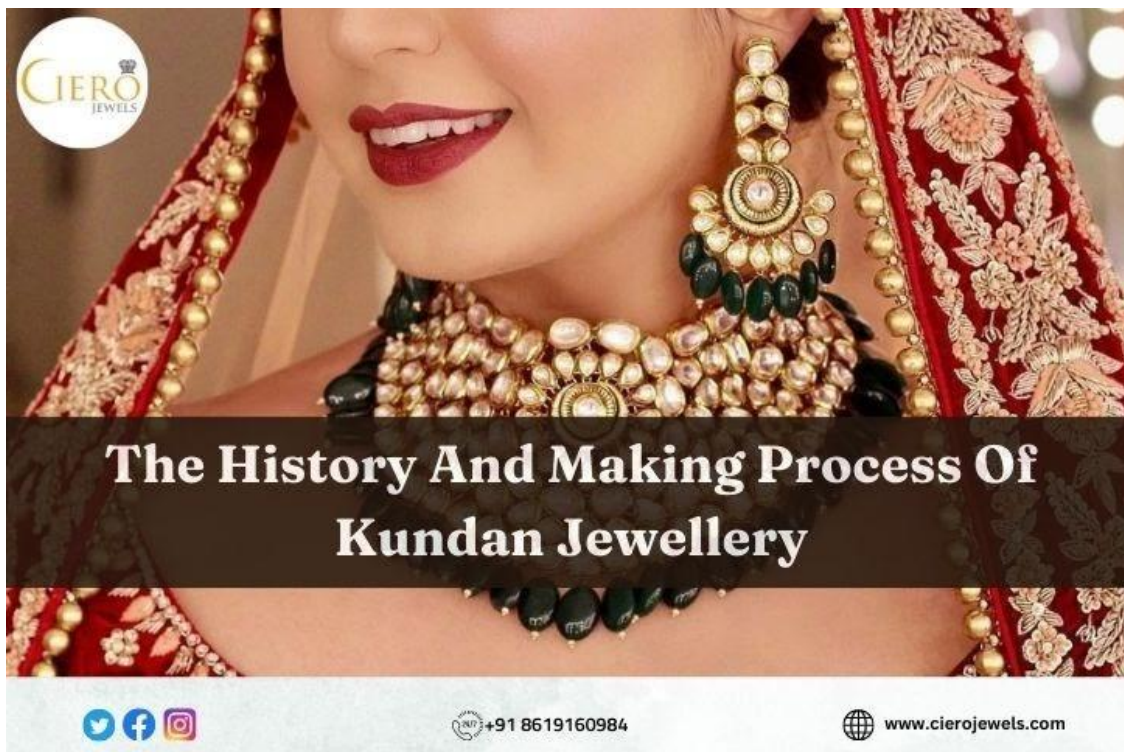

Kundan jewellery gets its name from skilled craftsmanship. The craftsman of Rajasthan used a base of high-quality gold or pure molten gold and then encased it with glass or beautiful gemstones. Kundan jewellery is enameled with various beautiful colours on the back and has a Kundan design on its front. For over 2500 years kundan jewellery is carrying its royal legacy.

Nowadays kundan jewellery is the first choice of every bride to carry the Traditional legacy on their wedding day. To match the whole outfit of the bride kundan jewellery nowadays comes in a complete set which includes bridal kundan bangles, necklace, earrings and maang tikka which gives the bride a beautiful royal look, you can also find all these Kundan jewellery pieces individually. Kundan jewellery now has various diversity, you can find rings and beautiful hair accessories as well in Kundan design. The work of Kundan jewellery is very detailed and requires high skill to create which can be seen in beautiful kundan chokers necklaces, rani haars, bracelets etc.

The History And Making Process Of Kundan Jewellery

It is believed that Kundan jewellery originated from the Mughals and was later on bought in India and taken over the jewellery box of Indian Royal families.

The craftsman first makes the mold or framework of the jewellery of 22 karat gold, then engraves the mold give it a desired pattern and then filled it with glass or gemstones. It requires patience and careful work of art to create every Kundan jewellery.

How To Identify Real And Fake Kundan Jewellery?

You need to know about real and fake Kundan jewellery while shopping. To identify whether Kundan jewellery is real you should have nominal knowledge of its craftsmanship. Since the Kundan jewellery is made of 24-karat gold the jewellery should come with a quality certificate. As a customer, you should also check for the stamps on the jewellery which is a sign of its authenticity. You can also find Kundan Imitation Jewellery online which is affordable and comes within the budget of common people.

Conclusion

This wedding season shop for royal kundan bridal jewellery from our online store. We have a diverse collection of jewellery at Ciero Jewels.

Source:- Read more